THINGS TO REMEMBER AFTER LASER TEETH WHITENING

With any whitening procedure, the longevity of the whitening effects depends primarily on your daily oral care routine.

Brushing your teeth at least twice daily, using mouthwash, and following any other steps your dentist has recommended prevent the build up of plaque and can keep stains from settling.

While this is key to a white smile that lasts longer, laser teeth whitening can last for years, because it removes old stains as well as stains you've accumulated since your last cleaning.
